

121. A miner is trapped in a dark cave with four tunnels to choose to get to freedom. At any time, he chooses any of the four tunnels with equal probability. One of the four tunnels will lead to freedom after three hours travel. The other three tunnels lead back to the cave after two hours, four hours, or one hour of travel. What is the expected amount of time the miner will remain trapped in the cave?