

36. Derive a confidence interval for a binomial p by inverting the acceptance region of the likelihood ratio test of $H_0 : p = p_0$ versus $H_1 : p \neq p_0$. It is not necessary to simplify the acceptance region or the confidence set.