

30. Consider a sequence of independent coin flips, each of which has probability p of being heads. Define a random variable X as the length of the run (of either heads or tails) started by the first trial. For example, $X = 3$ if either TTTH or HHHT is observed.
- (a) Find the PMF of X .
 - (b) Find the expected value of X .