69. Let Z have a standard normal distribution. Consider $X = Z^2$. Using transformation methods, find the probability density function of X. What is the relationship between the distribution of X and the gamma distribution?